NEW STORY

"Green Fancy," by McCutcheon, Starts in Courier Next Week.

The Courier is pleased to announce that a dandy new story will start in this paper next week. It is George Barr McCutcheon's latest story, "Green Fancy." All readers of fiction know this author and they will not be disappointed in his new novel.

This story will run about nine weeks reaching a beautiful climax. It is as fascinating as "Grandma" but not so lengthy. You will certainly want to read every line of it so do not miss the first issue—no back numbers will be supplied.

Watch next week for the opening chapters of "Green Fancy."

REGISTER NEXT TUESDAY.

If you are a resident of either Hickman or Fulton and expect to vote in the November election, it is necessary that you hold a registration certificate. A special registration will be held on Tuesday, Oct. 22, at both towns.

No citizen of either town will be permitted to vote unless they have registered and hold a certificate. Tuesday will be your last chance to qualify. Get busy.

Would you risk your life to save this Beautiful Girl?

That is what Thomas Barnes, wealthy New Yorker, did after a casual acquaintance. His interest in her leads him through so remarkable a series of adventures as any man ever experienced. If you enjoy stories of adventure, mystery and intrigue, be sure to read our new serial.

GREEN FANCY

This remarkable story is by George Barr McCutcheon, author of "Grandma," who is today the world's greatest writer of fiction. Send in 40¢ for a three months trial subscription, and you will get the complete story, together with your home news. Subscribe today—no back numbers of the paper furnished after the story starts.

FISHING LAWS

Ky. Game and Fish Commission Warns Against Illegal Practices.

Having secured license it is lawful to take fish from the Mississippi, Ohio, Big Sandy, Tug Fork or Big Sandy and Tennessee Rivers with hoopnets with out wings and with seines, mesh of which is not less than 1 1/2 inches square, and from the Licking Fork of the Sandy, Kentucky, Green, Harrods, Rough and Cumberland Rivers, with hoopnets without wings and with seines, mesh of which is not less than 2 inches square, under the following conditions:

1. Lawful to place or use nets or seines within 200 yards of the mouth of any river or stream or within 200 yards of any lock or dam or in any part of the river above the last lock and dam of any of the streams mentioned above.

2. Lawful to take fish from any stream, except those mentioned above, in any manner except with poles and lines, hand lines, set lines or trot lines.

3. Lawful to fish with seines or nets during the month of May (spawning season).

4. Possess nets or seines without first procuring license. All nets or seines in or out of use without license tags attached or under the legal size mesh will be destroyed and owners prosecuted.

5. Hook lines, charge or small mouth if caught in nets or seines must be returned unharmed to the water from which taken.

6. One resident hoopnet license and one tag, $1.25. Tags for additional nets, $1.00 each.

7. One resident seine license and one tag for seines of 100 feet, $2.25. For each additional 100 feet or fraction thereof, when seine exceeds 100 feet in length, $2.00. For each additional seine of 100 feet, $2.00.

8. Non-resident hoopnet or seine license, double the fees charged for resident license.

9. Penalties for violations $15.00 to $100.00, jail sentence and confiscation of seines and nets.

10. County Court Clerks in counties where lawful to use nets will issue the license to residents and non-residents and will explain the provisions of the law, or information and copies of the laws will be furnished upon request from the state office.

THE H. C. O. L.

Obion County Grand Jury Reports Its Findings at Union City.

After a careful investigation of living costs, the Obion County Grand Jury made a lengthy report to the court last week. Below is a short excerpt from the report, which will give an idea of the profits charged in our neighboring county:

"We have made a careful investigation of the prices of foodstuffs, dry goods, shoes, gents' furnishings, ladies' ready-to-wear, coal and lumber; we find the following profits made by retail merchants on the following articles: Ladies' hose, 50 per cent; ladies' shoes, 50 per cent; ladies' furs, 80 per cent; ladies' dresses, from 33 to 50 per cent; ladies' suits, 40 to 50 per cent; ladies' waists, 25 to 50 per cent; ladies' sweaters, 25 to 50 per cent; ladies' underwear, 25 to 40 per cent; crepe de chine and silks, 40 per cent; children's shoes, 33 to 50 per cent. In this connection we find from the testimony of witnesses that in the case of ladies' dresses and ladies' suits high prices are marked on these goods by the merchant so that he can come down below the price marked on the goods, the merchant claiming that they do not expect to sell goods at the price they are marked, but that they put the high price on so that they can come down. This would indicate that some women are paying more than others for their suits, dresses, etc., depending on their ability to drive for a lower price. The admission along this line of merchants are astonishing. There is probably more profit in ladies' goods than in any other line of the dry goods business."

Wingo Boy Loses Life by Hoping Train Last Saturday.

Paul Tribble, 18 years old, the youngest son of Mrs. Nannie Tribble, died Saturday afternoon in Riverside hospital at Paducah, three hours after he had been run over by a freight train at Wingo, Ky., and both legs horribly crushed above the knees.

Tribble left the home of his mother, who resides one mile and a half north of Wingo, at 12 o'clock Saturday afternoon on his way to Wingo. He boarded a freight train running in that direction and rode to the platform at Wingo when he made an attempt to get off. His feet slipped and he was thrown under the moving train. When picked up by persons near the station, both legs were almost entirely severed.

A special train was made up and he was rushed to Paducah. An operation was immediately performed, but the loss of his family being with his mother, and they sold their property near Wingo and were to move to Texas in the very near future to make their home.

NEWTON BADLY HURT.

Burton Newton was seriously hurt Saturday afternoon when he fell several feet from a scaffold while at work in the reconstruction of the Episcopal church. Mr. Newton's nose was badly broken and a deep gash cut on his forehead. He is confined to his room at his home on Vine street and is reported to be resting as well as could be expected today. — Fulton Leader.

Mr. Newton formerly lived at Hickman and is well known here.

LOOKING BACKWARD

(Twenty-Second Installment.)
Compiled by Judge B. T. Davis.

The Constitutions of Kentucky have always provided for the election of a Governor and a Lieutenant Governor, and that upon the death or resignation of the Governor the office shall be filled by the Lieutenant Governor. James H. Blair, Governor now by succession, upon the resignation of Governor Stanley.

In 1870 General Madison was elected Governor but died before being installed into the office. General Shaulhofer had been elected Lieutenant Governor and it was a question whether or not a new election should be called or whether the Lieutenant Governor elected should succeed to the full term. In this emergency it was decided that General Shaulhofer should succeed to the full term.

A hundred years ago this country was recovering from the effects of war in its commercial and agricultural life. The condition of mankind was worse than the war had just closed. Under the administration of General Shaulhofer a great political contest commenced which injured the state for more than ten years.

During the Napoleonic wars which had just closed in Europe, prices of all commodities had risen for the purchase of which the people had become loaded with debt and the cry for relief from debt was universal. It was not more possible then than now to produce cheap commodities with high priced labor with high priced material.

It was estimated a hundred years ago that relief could not be obtained by an increase of paper money. In a single session of the legislature in 1817, 18, forty independent banks were chartered with an aggregate capital of ten million dollars. In the summer of 1818, the state was flooded with the money of these banks. Speculation sprang up in all directions. Large loans were readily made and readily expended. In the meantime the pressure of debt became terrible and the power to repay judgments was extended from three to twelve months. During the summer of 1820 the cry for further relief became overwhelming and the majority of both Senators and Representatives were pledged to some measure to relieve the debtor from the consequences of such rashness.

At the session of 1820 the bank of commonwealth was chartered. It was a kind of State paper mill whose chief and sole business was to print out paper money in endless profusion. It was paper money with no guarantee of redemption. It was made payable and receivable for public and private debts and for taxes, and the creditor who refused to receive it was forced to wait two years. The only security for the paper money of this bank was the pledge of land owners by the state west of the Tennessee River in what is now known as the Purchase. The creditor had his choice of two evils: one was to receive payment of his debt in this paper of the Bank of Commonwealth, which was worth less than silver, or to wait two years and at the end of that time do the best he could, running the risk of new delays and bankruptcy of the debtors.

Politicians in those days, inveighed against capital and wealth the same as at present. The attempt to create something out of nothing was fully tested. The debt of the people could not be liquidated with paper money printed by the state under a law requiring it to be accepted in payment of public and private debts and taxes. The Purchase contained the "promised land" but some was not readily available as money.

Arthur Rose son of Mr and Mrs. C. L. Rose of this county arrived home Sept. 19th, after having been in the navy for 14 months. After receiving his training at the Great Lakes 1 month he left for Hampton Roads, Va., and went aboard the U. S. S. Illinois, Jan. 10th, where he got his training as a fireman. Then he went on the U. S. S. Garrettsville, Feb. 24th. This was his first ship on sea. First trip was from Norfolk to New Orleans, and when returned from New Orleans started across. Left Norfolk April 7th, arrived in Hamburg, Germany, April 27th. Enroute to Hamburg he saw the mid-night sun north of the Shetland Islands. From Hamburg, went to Rotterdam, and thence to Cardiff, Wales. Saw this country of his ancestors on his father's side. Went on the U. S. S. to Lake Havasu, May 17th. Made quite a few trips from England to France, also touching the borders of Norway, Sweden, and Denmark. He sailed from Bordeaux, France, July 21st for the U. S. A., and arrived at Graves Bay, Aug. 15th. Went in dry docks at Brooklyn, N. Y., turned the ship over to the shipping board, and the crew was transferred to Bag Ridge training ship for discharge. He was in New York four weeks then transferred to Pittsburgh, Pa., for honorable discharge.

After receiving his training at the Great Lakes 1 month he left for Hampton Roads, Va., and went aboard the U. S. S. Illinois, Jan. 10th, where he got his training as a fireman. Then he went on the U. S. S. Garrettsville, Feb. 24th. This was his first ship on sea. First trip was from Norfolk to New Orleans, and when returned from New Orleans started across. Left Norfolk April 7th, arrived in Hamburg, Germany, April 27th. Enroute to Hamburg he saw the mid-night sun north of the Shetland Islands. From Hamburg, went to Rotterdam, and thence to Cardiff, Wales. Saw this country of his ancestors on his father's side. Went on the U. S. S. to Lake Havasu, May 17th. Made quite a few trips from England to France, also touching the borders of Norway, Sweden, and Denmark. He sailed from Bordeaux, France, July 21st for the U. S. A., and arrived at Graves Bay, Aug. 15th. Went in dry docks at Brooklyn, N. Y., turned the ship over to the shipping board, and the crew was transferred to Bag Ridge training ship for discharge. He was in New York four weeks then transferred to Pittsburgh, Pa., for honorable discharge.

DIVISION ROLL CALL QUOTA ANNOUNCED

THE sum of $1,880,000 has been announced by the campaign manager of the Lake Division, Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky—for the Third Red Cross Roll Call November 2-11.

This amount represents the share of this division in the $15,000,000 fund asked from the nation to complete war relief activities abroad during the coming year.

No quotas for membership are to be set. It is hoped that this Roll Call will make membership in the Red Cross universal.

In the last drive for funds the quota for this division was $5,000,000, and was over-subscribed by more than $4,500,000. State and county quotas for this drive are to be announced shortly by state campaign managers.

The November drive is the only Red Cross campaign this year. In succeeding years there will be an annual Roll Call to enroll members and make possible the continuance of service to Americans—the peacetime ideal of the American Red Cross.

JUNIORS HOLD DRIVE

THE opening of school this year has an additional interest—the enrolling in the Lake Division of 200,000 members for the Junior Red Cross before the first of the month of school is over.

This will make the membership of a million that Junior auxiliaries in the division are eager to obtain.

Members of the Junior Red Cross will assist in the Roll Call, November 2-11.

SOLDIERS IN CAMP USE R. C. SERVICE

WHEN a man makes the change from military to civilian life he depends up on the Red Cross workers at camp to help him in the transition. Workers in the Lake Division camps have found that the need has increased in the past few months rather than lessened.

Of the 24,577 men who passed through the demobilization unit at Camp Taylor last month, 2,502 were recorded as new cases for Red Cross to be helped in one way or another. This total puts Camp Taylor at the head of the list for all camps in the country in volume of work of this kind. Camp Sherman stands third.

NURSES FIGHT DISEASE

RED Cross nurses discharged from overseas work are choosing public health nursing and positions as instructors in home hygiene and dietetics as their peacetime occupation. "The germ army killed more Americans in the last four years than the German army," is their slogan. Four have been assigned during the past month to public health service in the Lake Division.

Fifty Red Cross nurses—instructors of classes for women and girls outside the nursing profession—are meeting in Cleveland September 18-20 to discuss means of teaching the general public how to avoid diseases.

RED CROSS HUNTS FOR MISSING MEN

THE Home Service sections of the American Red Cross in Ohio, Indiana and Kentucky are helping to locate soldiers who have disappeared since their discharge from military service.

One is Sgt. Russell Irving Viles, discharged June 17 from service with the Motor Transport Corp. #13.

Private Harry E. Ross, Co. H, 26th Infantry, First Division, A. E. F., was wounded while serving at Soissons July 19, 1918. Since that time only in definite reports have reached his mother, Mrs. Clark D. Ross, 4042 Third St., Des Moines, Ia.

Private Joseph Burch Walker of Monteagle, Tenn., is believed to be mentally disabled as the result of gas. He was with Co. I, 128th Infantry, and was discharged from Camp Dodge in June.

Private George Nelson, C. E. F., has been missing since February 1, 1919. He is suffering a lapse in memory following shell shock.

Any of these men may be in the Lake Division, ignorant of names and addresses. The Red Cross has been of valuable assistance to the army in finding missing men.

VOLUNTEER

Be one of the million workers in the country who will help to enroll Red Cross members in the Third Roll Call November 2-11.

The Red Cross needs $15,000,000 to complete war relief obligations overseas. The Lake Division's share is $1,880,000.

The Red Cross needs new members for 1920 to carry on Red Cross service for Americans. Your chapter needs you.

You Do More Work,

You are more ambitious and you get more enjoyment out of everything when your blood is in good condition. Impurities in the blood have a very depressing effect on the system, causing weakness, laziness, nervousness and sickness. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC restores Energy and Vitality by Purifying and Enriching the Blood. When you feel its strengthening, invigorating effect, see how it brings color to the cheeks and how it improves the appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value. GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC is not a patent medicine, it is simply IRON and QUININE suspended in Syrup. So pleasant even children like it. The blood needs Quinine to Purify it and IRON to Enrich it. These reliable tonic properties never fail to drive out impurities in the blood.

The Strength-Creating Power of GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC has made it the favorite tonic in thousands of homes. More than thirty-five years ago, folks would ride a long distance to get GROVE'S TASTELESS CHILL TONIC when a member of their family had Malaria or needed a body-building, strength-giving tonic. The formula is just the same today, and you can get it from any drug store. 60c per bottle.

Catarrhal Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure catarrhal deafness, and that is by a constitutional remedy. Catarrhal Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is perfect hearing is the result. Unless the inflammation can be reduced and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Many cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is an inflamed condition of the mucous surface of the throat. Hall's Catarrh Medicine acts thru the blood on the mucous surfaces of the system.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Catarrhal Deafness that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Medicine. Circulars free. All druggists, or F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

SUCCESS IN SHEEP BUSINESS

Health is of Primary Importance and Internal Parasites Should Be Guarded Against.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

In any system of continuous farm sheep raising the health question is of primary importance. This question is chiefly one of internal parasites, and of these the stomach worm is the most widely distributed and the most serious. Fortunately, the trouble is entirely susceptible of practical control, and the methods of prevention are exactly in line with the practices that result in most economical production. It is possible, though doubtful, that the permanent farm flock can be maintained in maximum health when grazed entirely on permanent grass pastures. A system of division of grass land into sufficient parts to allow frequent long periods without sheep and use of longer grass for cattle will assist materially. Such a plan, combined with occasional use of medicine to prevent too serious infection, may prove to be practical.

The basis of success in the farm sheep business is in the frequency of changing to pastures which have not had any opportunity to become infested with stomach worms by older sheep. These frequent changes are particularly necessary during the stay of the young lambs upon the farm. The older sheep are less susceptible to the effects of the infection, though danger of their being injured thereby is not to be overlooked. The plan of frequent changes to fresh feed can be adapted advantageously to the most economical systems of using high-priced land in the rotation of crops to produce feed and forage for other kinds of live stock.

The principles of flock management for maximum health and for adaptation to other lines of farm production are illustrated in the following outline of a plan of crop production and feeding:

Under a Three-Year Rotation of Corn, Clover, and Small Grains on 160 Acres.

25 acres corn: To finish 20 yearling cattle and 40 hogs.

15 a. silage corn.... Roughage for 20 cows, 20 yearlings, 40 ewes, and 20 ewe lambs, work stock. Grain for sale or exchange for other feed.

20 acres clover pasture: Season's grazing for 20 breeding cows.

20 acres permanent grass pasture: Grazing for 20 yearling cattle on feed for December shipment.

In the above, sheep would be grazed as follows:

1. On winter wheat.
2. On grass pasture with yearling cattle.
3. With cows on clover pasture.
4. On clover meadow after hay cut.
5. On grain stubble.
6. In cornfields after silage cut or corn harvested.
7. On winter wheat.

At other times on rape, soy beans, or other grazing crops on 10-acre field. Unused forage harvested for winter feed.

Such a plan as this allows sufficiently frequent change of pasture without any part of the flock going upon land that has previously carried sheep in the same year. The forage crop land is a safety measure for reliance in case of shortage of other feeds and could regularly be used for carrying the reserved ewe lambs from weaning time until winter.

SALT POISONING OF SWINE

Whenever Used for Pigs It Should Be Mixed With Feed or Used in a Conditioner.

Salt poisoning of hogs is not of rare occurrence, according to an article by H. C. H. Kernkamp, University Farm, St. Paul, reprinted from the Cornell Veterinarian. Pigs, says Mr. Kernkamp, should not be given salt as other farm animals are. Whenever salt is used for pigs it should be mixed with the feed or used as one of the ingredients of a tonic or conditioner. It should never be placed in a container alone where the hogs have free access to it.

CALOMEL

Calomel is a dangerous drug. It is mercury—quicksilver; and attacks your bones. Take a dose of nasty calomel today and you will feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work.

Take "Dodson's Liver Tone" Instead!

Here's my guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't salivate, so let them eat anything afterwards.

Now Big Car Owners

IN IT THEY FIND WANTED LARGE CAR QUALITIES, WITH ADVANTAGES EXCLUSIVE TO SMALL CARS

Turn to Essex

Consider how many, who formerly bought only large, high-priced cars, now own an Essex.

It proves that size was not what they sought. They paid big premiums for qualities that small cars did not offer.

These are people with wide motor experience. They prize such light car advantages as economy and nimbleness.

But heretofore, only large, costly cars met their other requirements of performance, riding ease and appearance.

NOW THEY BUY THE ESSEX

And they are chief among Essex enthusiasts. It meets their demands for a complete car. Accustomed to fine car qualities, they appreciate the way in which Essex matches the best standards of cars in higher price range.

The Essex was designed to embody the wanted qualities of the finest cars, in a size it would be possible to build at a moderate price.

SUCH IS THE CAR YOU WANT

Everywhere you hear how Essex meets those exactions. Consider just what all this comment and praise of Essex means. Surely no other car ever excited such unrestrained enthusiasm.

And note this fact. Except in size and economy you have probably never heard Essex compared to another small car. Men inevitably seek comparison for Essex qualities among high-priced cars. There only, do they find parallels by which to describe it.

They match its acceleration against certain makes noted for that quality. Its speed they compare to the swiftest. Every community has its story of how the Essex, "in high," tops some local "bogey" hill.

And now that it has become so well known, men are making it the performance standard. It is not unusual to hear some say of a high-priced car they admire: "Why it climbs like an Essex," or "It gets away at crossings with the Essex cars."

EXAMINE THE ESSEX RIDE IN IT

Your first glance will note the distinctive finish, the materials and workmanship. See the car even in the smallest details.

Its solid, compact assembly, that has been proved in every trying test, will satisfy you of endurance powers.

Then take a ride in the Essex. It will reveal qualities that charm you as they have nearly a million others.

You will agree that only big production permits the sale of such a car at the Essex price. Though they are being built at the rate of 20,000 a year, the demand exceeds supply.

You can be sure of an Essex when you want it only by placing your order now.

MILBURN CANN

Formerly of This Section, Died at Paducah Friday Evening.

The many friends and relatives of Milburn Cann, were made sad Friday evening when a message came that he had died that evening at 6 o'clock at the Riverside Hospital, in Paducah, following an operation a few weeks ago.

He was born to the Sylvan Shade vicinity, near Hickman, twenty-nine years ago and lived there until he was about nine years old, when his father moved to Gilbert City, Ky., where he has resided ever since. In the spring of 1915 he enlisted in the Navy and the following winter he had the flu while on a ship frozen up in the ocean. He was carried from the ship to Quebec, Canada, and after he recovered enough to travel he was sent to a hospital in Boston where he remained until the 25th of July, when he received his discharge. He was at home only a few days until he went to the hospital at Paducah, and remained there until death relieved his suffering. All that kind and loving hands could do was done, but all in vain. The best medical aid possible, was secured but to no effect. He was a fine boy, always ready to do anything when called on, here has suffered patiently, never complained, always thoughtful of his mother and sisters and the vacancy made in the home by his death can never be filled.

He leaves a heart-broken twin brother, Eugene, five other brothers, three sisters and father and mother to mourn his death.

He was unconscious for several days before death, but gained consciousness Monday night and talked with his mother. He told her he wasn't afraid to die.

He became a member of the Christian church about five years ago and lived a true Christian life since. He seemed to enjoy life. Made friends everywhere he went. To know him was to love him.

He paid the debt we all must pay, some time, and we feel that our earthly loss is but heaven's eternal gain.
A Cousin.

J. R. BROWN

Candidate For Mayor of the City of Hickman.

I am making my announcement for Mayor subject to the approval of the City Council, which will be qualified in January, 1920. As you know, this is not a regular election for Mayor, but only a run-off to get the vote as to whom the people want to fill out the unexpired term of A. O. Caruthers, who will go out of office in Jan. 1920.

I will state I am running independent of the two tickets for Council. My competitors are running in their own best men on the two tickets, and if all the voters will do this, we will have a City Council we will be proud of.

Now in conclusion, will say that if I am elected your next Mayor, I expect to see that the City Charter is carried out. I have served as a member of the Council 12 years and on the School Board 14 years, and think I know the duties that a Mayor and Council men to perform if they do their duty. In regard to my official record, will refer you to the older citizens of the town as to whether I have done my duty or not in regard to the city and people.

I want to say that anything you may do for me before and on Nov. 4th, 1919, I will appreciate.

Yours respectfully,
J. R. BROWN.

COTTON $12 SATURDAY.

Cotton prices took a big spurt last week, jumping from about $9.50 the first of the week to $12.00 Saturday. They were slightly higher even the first of this week. Local buyers, it seems, were paying about all the market justified and the gins were kept busy.

This will seem to be a very healthy figure as compared with prices of $2.50 a few years back, but at the same time the present crop has cost far more to raise than any crop in history, and $12 is not too high compared with all other commodities. Pickling, too, is costing from $1.50 to $2 a hundred.

FINE TOBACCO CROP.

Col. T. A. Prather, Jr., who raised this year the largest and only tobacco crop of any consequence west of the M. & O. Ry. in this county, has found his experiment very successful. He had 30 acres on the old Dodds east farm. The crop has been harvested and Mr. Prather says he has about 10,000 sticks, with an average of about 1500 pounds to the acre, which, we understand, is a good yield.

This tobacco crop is another proof of the wonderful agricultural possibilities of this immediate vicinity.

TREATY AN ISSUE

Black Favors It; While Morrow Says Not a State Issue.

In his speech at Hickman last week, Gov. James D. Black voiced his endorsement of the peace treaty and league of nations, but stated that his opponent had carefully dodged this issue. Now it develops that the Republican candidate for Governor, 151, P. Morrow, refuses to consider it a state issue.

In speeches Candidate Morrow has claimed the international peace treaty and the league of nations are unrelated to the state in that "his (Black's) election or my (Morrow's) election or any member of either state ticket will not in any way secure the ratification or rejection of the peace treaty."

Gov. Black holds up this claim to ridicule, asserting that it is a state issue and arguing that the country's backbone, the labor element, is everywhere in turmoil, for the reason that Republican senators have through partisan opposition delayed ratification of the peace treaty.

Fallitorial writers of Kentucky's newspapers have taken up the question and many of them agree that the policy of Morrow, the policy of refusal to express his views in regard to the peace treaty is unwise. In a Louisville paper appears the following editorial:

"The result in the congressional fight in the Eighth Kentucky district is an object lesson that the national Republican leaders construe any Republican victory in this state as a league repudiation, despite the fact that King Swope has never dared take such a stand in his bid to win. The mass of Kentuckians who would rather see the state have no governor at all than one whose election could be tortured into a league repudiation that would cut the heart from the covenant, had a bitter experience in the Swope case and they will not risk it with Mr. Morrow."

Rev. W. F. Reubenberg wishes us that he and his family expect to return home from Louisville tomorrow. They have been in the city several weeks longer than they expected as Mrs. Reubenberg was forced to undergo a serious operation and has been unable to return home. Noted Socialist Predicts Revolution Throughout United States.

Emma Goldman, fresh from behind the bars of the Missouri state penitentiary, proclaimed the steel strike to be "one of the most glorious events in the annals of the American people."

She is still an avowed anarchist—Bolshevik—anything that means revolution. She told her interviewers she had come from prison more hopeful and more undaunted than ever before.

She will fight her threatened deportation to Russia, not because she does not wish to go back to Russia, but "for the principle of the thing."

She has terrible tales about the mistreatment of the women prisoners in the Missouri state prison. She will stir the country, she proclaims, with tales of cruelty.

"It is a glorious thing to be greeted with the cries of the steel workers," she said. "That and the actors' strike are two of the marvels of the age."

The grizzled anarchist predicted that in a few years America would be the scene of the most "terrible revolution" that has ever shaken any country. The strike of the steel workers was only the beginning, she said. She smoothed her black silk gown and talked of Russia.

"Yes, I should like to go back there," she said. "There are glorious things happening there; things that I would not have dared to predict 10 years ago."

Speaking of the great steel strike, Secretary of Commerce Redfield says: "Organized labor is losing the sympathy of the general public, and unless its attitude and action undergo alterations very soon the union movement will suffer a serious reverse."

J. C. Hendrix & Son, local Ford dealers, got in a car load of new "Lizzies" yesterday. They went like "hot cakes," and still the firm is away behind with orders.

TURCOS of VENEZUELA

"Turco" Shop in Caracas.

FEW PEOPLE associate the idea of Arabs, Moors or Turks with the picturesque cities of the Spanish main, yet there is a flourishing colony of these orientals in Venezuela, hailing from northern Africa and Asia Minor. They maintain among their foreign surroundings all the customs of their brethren in the Old World except that of plural marriage, on which institution the Venezuelan government has put its foot. "It is a strange thing to walk along one of the main business streets, say, of Caracas, essentially Spanish in every respect," says a writer in the New York Times, as quoted in the Literary Digest, "and suddenly see alongside Spanish names of merchants strange Oriental inscriptions, such as Abu Amel, Ben Sid, Canalia, Hestier. One might easily imagine one's self in the bazaars of Tangier or Damascus." They are an interesting lot, these "Turcos," as the Venezuelans call them, irrespective of whether they came from Turkish territory or not. They will not work under a "boss," and so all of them are in business for themselves, mostly as peddlers or small shopkeepers; and all of them make money hand over fist. Not only do they take in the coin, but they also save it, and it is no uncommon thing for a humble peddler to come into a bank, plunk down $20,000 in gold and ask for a receipt and a check book. They don't like banks and therefore keep their money at home until the amount becomes so large that they fear for its safety. And they will, under no circumstances, "mix" with the native population.

Live Their Lives Apart.

These Arabs and Moors and Turks live a life entirely apart from the Venezuelan community. Whereas, if a Venezuelan has half a million dollars, he is known all over the country and pointed out as one of the leading men in the community, a "Turco" in Caracas, the Venezuelan capital, may have that amount, or nearly as much, and live so entirely to himself that scarcely anybody in the city can even tell you where he dwells. There are "Turcos" with big accounts in the leading banks of Caracas who are still living in the wretched hovels they occupied when they first reached Venezuela, with ten or fifteen of their race packed into the same house, several in a room. And when they return to northern Africa or Asia Minor they often go back as they came, in the steerage, crowded with hundreds of other passengers, though the purser of the steamer may have looked up for safekeeping thousands of their dollars which they have earned by years of hard work in Venezuela.

The "Turcos" never accept a job. They want to be their own bosses first, last and all the time. They began by going to some old-established firm in Venezuela, asking a credit of $5 to $10, and taking out a basket of trinkets and dry goods to sell from house to house in the capital or some of the lesser cities and towns. They start out shortly after dawn and work until dark. Their cry of "Compre, mercante" ("Buy, customer"), in a strange, Oriental singsong, is well known all over Venezuela.

Prosper and Grow Rich.

Gradually, as they prosper—and they almost invariably do—they get more credit from the big firms and eventually open a little shop, a mere "hole-in-the-wall," where there is scarcely room for a person to turn around. They put in a stock of dry goods, trinkets, novelties and the like, or perhaps the lighter kind of hardware. Then they get rich. Their money multiplies in ways that strike the Venezuelans, who are inclined to take life easy, as miraculous.

The quitting whistle means nothing to a "Turco." He will start a little rat-hole of a shop near the market place in Caracas, for instance, and open up at dawn in order to catch the sellers of vegetables and fruits, who come into the market from the villages round about, and the sellers of fish who cross the mountains from the seacoast in the small boats and reach Caracas at sunrise. He will remain open long after the shops of the Venezuelans are closed and their proprietors thinking of theaters and dinner parties.

As a general rule, when a "Turco" has accumulated a sufficient amount of money he will close up shop, pack up his belongings and return to his native land, where the means acquired in the western world enable him to live in "grand style" according to the standards prevailing in the home town. Once in a while, however, one of the little shopkeepers will decide to remain in South America and "branch out." As a result some of the most important shops in Venezuela are owned by "Turcos." Further:

The "Turcos" who run these big shops naturally need employees to help them, but the employees are never "Turcos," for, as I said, these people insist on being their own bosses. So the strange anomaly is presented of these keen competitors of the Venezuelan merchants being served by Venezuelan employees. Customers entering several of the principal dry goods shops of Caracas will find behind the counter a young Venezuelan clerk, who will obligingly hand down goods from the shelves, while, tucked away in a dark cut-throat, barely visible from the front of the shop, is a swartly "Turco" proprietor bent over his ledger, trying to figure out how soon he can return to Mount Lebanon and cut a swath among home-folk.

Observe Mohammedan Forms.

"Turcos" are born traders and shun other forms of business. Their idea of a line of endeavor worth-while is one where they have to take no chances; hence they never speculate, not even so much as to extend credit to their customers, practically all their transactions being conducted on a cash basis. And they refuse to change their oriental ways, it seems.

When they close their shops they hurry to the quarters where they live—in Caracas they are packed together in one of the worst sections of the city—and take up a mode of living which is not a bit different from that of their kin along the eastern shore of the Mediterranean. At sunset the Mohammedans among them prostrate themselves toward Mecca and recite the prayers enjoined upon them by the prophet. Old Moors, oriental to the finger tips, in spite of their occidental garb, sit at the doors of Spanish-American hotels and chatter in Arabic, quite as if they were in Fez or Algiers. Now and then a feud, started at home before they emigrated, bursts out in the Arabic parlors of some Venezuelan city, and then newspaper readers running over the police news see a wonderful collection of names, Abu this and Mohammed that, all run in for disturbing the peace. Once one of these feuds took on the proportions of a regular Tong war of New York's Chinatown, and resulted in half a dozen murders before the passions aroused in northern Africa could be calmed down in Venezuela.

There have been some amusing incidents connected with the rise of the "Turcos" in Venezuela. For one thing, they throw dignity to the winds and, there, too, they get under the skins of the Venezuelans, who, like everybody of the Spanish race, are nothing if not dignified. While the native merchant, however humble, will stay inside his shop and wait upon his customers with grave courtesy, the "Turco," as like as not, will stand at the door and urge passers-by with an engaging smile to enter and look over his wares.

LIKES PLATFORM

O. B. Kerlin Wants to be Chief of Police on Citizens Ticket.

The Courier is in receipt of the following letter from O. B. Kerlin, of Clinton, but a former citizen of Hickman, who is well and favorably known here. Under date of Oct. 1, he writes:

Messrs. Spear & Sexton, Hickman, Ky.

Gentlemen:

After having carefully read over the platform of the Citizens Ticket, I heartily endorse same. I am gratified to know that J. O. West is a candidate for the mayor on that platform, along with six good men for Council.

All who know Mr. West know he is a young man of splendid qualities and worthy the suffrage and confidence of the good people of Hickman. He has not been found wanting a slack in progressive movements and public welfare. I can remember his great aid in the trying time of the war, the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A. and all good moves for the betterment of the city and the help of humanity. Being an active young business man, I think his election would add materially to the future progress and welfare of the city.

I see no unbecomings for Chief of Police, so you may announce that I am a candidate for this place under the platform as outlined by the Citizens Ticket of Hickman, as it is a platform that I can heartily endorse.

Yours truly,

O. B. KERLIN.

CLEAR UP DOUBT

President's Trip Through West Helps League Issue.

Aboard President Wilson's Special Train—A continuous ovation along the Pacific coast and then on his eastward way back toward the capital was given to President Wilson as he came toward the end of his month daylong speaking tour in behalf of the League of Nations. California, particularly the delightful city of Los Angeles, went wild in its enthusiasm for him and his advocacy of the League, and it was in that state, perhaps, that he did his most successful missionary work. Hiram Johnson, California's former governor, now her United States senator, and considered by her as the most likely Republican candidate for the presidency in 1920, had before the arrival of President Wilson, convinced a great number of citizens that the League as at present formulated was not a good thing. He had told them that the United States, because of it, would be drawn into every petty European quarrel; he argued that we would lose our sovereignty by joining with the European nations. He had blamed the president for assenting to the possession by Japan of the Peninsula of Shan Tung in China.

BUREAU CHANGES NAME

The Mount Clemens News Bureau, which has been furnishing reports on President Wilson's tour in behalf of the League of Nations to 5,500 papers, has adopted a new name and will hereafter be known as The Independent News Bureau.

But Mr. Wilson, with clear logic and with compelling eloquence, answered to the entire satisfaction of California's people every objection which Senator Johnson had made to the League. And thousands of the state's citizens deserted the Johnson standard immediately and rallied to the support of the president. More than that, they came forward and said, "We were against you Mr. President, but you have cleared everything up and now we are with you heart and soul." Still more than that, they let Senator Johnson know that they were no longer with him and that they disapproved of the speaking tour which he himself was making in opposition to the League and so powerful was the volume of public opinion which reached him, that the senator almost immediately abandoned his tour. The Shan Tung question, because of the anti-Japanese feeling which undoubtedly exists along the Pacific coast was the most serious which the president had to answer. He explained to the people that he had been powerless to prevent the rich peninsula from being given to Japan. England and France, through a secret treaty, had promised it to Japan for entering the war and remaining in it. That treaty had to be carried out. Anyway it was not China that was losing Shan Tung, but Germany, which had seized the territory from China in 1918 and held it ever since. Japan had promised, the president explained, to return Shan Tung as soon as the peace treaty was ratified and it was only through the ratification of the treaty with the League of Nations inclusion, that China could ever expect to get her former property back. And she surely would get it back, he declared, through the ratification of the League. Therefore, through the same instrumentality no other nation could again prey upon the "Great, patient, diligent, but helpless kingdom." As to our being drawn into any European conflict. The president pointed out that no direct action such as the sending of troops to any part of the world to maintain or restore order could be taken by the Council of the League without a unanimous vote of the council members, therefore our vote could at once negative any such proposition as sending our soldiers where we did not want them sent. Besides, Mr. Wilson argued, "If you have to quench a fire in California you don't send the fire department of Utah." But, he argued, there probably never will be another war, if the League is established, for the members promise either to arbitrate their difference and accept the decision of the arbitrator, lay the differences for discussion and publication before the Council of the League for a period of six months, and then, if possible, accept the council's advice. That failing, they agree to refrain from war for a further period of three months and nine months of "cooling off," the president contended, would prevent any armed conflict. These clear explanations satisfied every reasonable hearer and destroyed the "Bugaboos" which Senator Johnson and others had raised against the League. Through rugged Nevada into Utah, the land of Mormons, the president swept to find that those fine people were heartily with him for the League and a permanency of peace.

OIL PROJECT

Local Company Will Bore For Oil; Offers Lots For Sale.

Roney, Mitchell & Bruer is the style of a new firm in Hickman, which will undertake to exploit and launch a new oil enterprise.

It is their plan to subdivide thirty-three acres of land near Hammond, into 100-foot square lots and sell the lots at $10.00 each. Behind the project, of course, is the possibility of striking oil, and the company agrees to spend $25,000 in sinking a well on the tract. If oil is brought in, all purchasers of lots will participate in the dividends; if it turns out to be a dry hole, each purchaser will still have his land.

Real sports will take a chance in this game. It is perfectly legitimate. No extravagant promises of finding oil is made. You simply buy a lot and take a chance on oil.

Most of our readers know of the oil fever here and the causes of it. There is good reason to believe—judging from the keen interest manifest by all operators—that the prospects for oil in the west of Hickman and around Redfoot Lake, it has been found there—along with gas—in small quantities. The holdings of Roney, Mitchell and Bruer are right in the "oil belt" and if oil exists in paying quantities in that section, then this company's proposition should prove a good one.

Plans are under way for drilling several wells in this vicinity in the near future.

M. L. SCHOOLS

Progress of Moonlight School Work in Fulton County.

Many colored moonlight schools have already begun and have done some excellent work. Men and women over seventy years old have learned to read and to write a legible hand. In two weeks, some of these schools in the bottom have had to close for the season of cotton picking and the teachers have had to return to their homes. The Fulton Colored Moonlight School began some weeks past and has a large attendance. The Hickman Colored Moonlight School with Prof. G. T. Halliburton, Hertha Nichols and Ada Yates as teachers, opened Monday night, Sept. 29, with fifteen in attendance. More came into the school Tuesday night and more will continue to enroll for some time, however all should endeavor to enter as soon as possible in the school is only in session for six weeks. To the pupil, in each school, that makes the greatest progress a reward pin will be given.

To each pupil who attends the school for the twenty-four evenings and learns to read and write his own letters a certificate will be issued.

To each pupil who completes the second reader, learns to write letters, writes from dictation and answers the drill questions in at least four subjects a diploma will be issued.

I will take this opportunity to ask all colored people of education to do all you can to get your more illiterate friends and neighbors to take advantage of this opportunity now offered to them free of all charge and thereby improve themselves.

The Hickman Colored Moonlight School is held in the hall over the Hickman Joint Stock Co., beginning at 7:30 each night.

To the white people having colored servants as workmen I will say do all you can to influence such servant or workman to attend this Moonlight School and thus help to lessen the illiteracy in this town.

A White Moonlight School will be started in Hickman in the near future next week perhaps let all white people of education do all in their power to get people of no or little learning to attend this school and thus beside doing the illiterates themselves a favor, reduce the illiteracy of Fulton county, which in the 1910 census was 1,371 and raise Fulton county from its rank among the counties of the state of fifty-seventh in education.

I will endeavor to get to the Consolidated and County High School districts next week and help organize Moonlight Schools and line up any truancy.

As next week marks the opening of the third and perhaps last session of the Moonlight Schools in the county, let all teachers canvass every district and get their schools started then if possible. I intend to go into the county proper next week to stay working with each teacher and their district, doing what I can to help in this work.

Illiteracy Agent.

The Way Out.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found the announcement of D. B. Kerlin, who would like to be our next Police Chief "on the platform as outlined by the Citizens ticket." We are not taking any part in the race, but will say that Mr. Kerlin is one of the finest gentlemen of our acquaintance, a fearless, high class, Christian gentleman, and one who has many friends throughout Western Kentucky. It is needless to say he is fully and well qualified for the Marshalship—few as good—none better.

HIS LETTER

Beyond the steel and the fire
Gleams the old desire.

War has not taken wonder away,
More poignant where its lightning play
The appeal of Beauty's lonely cry!
I shall go on dreaming till I die
I see wind-blown, coin-bright towers,
And roads that shine across the downs;
A dusk of forest and a fire
Of light that silvers the design;
Always the shadowed and the bright,
A halo for the blackest night!
—Islands where I have never been,
The rainbow toppling down the green
Or tilted seas that make a ship,
The molten lava streams that slip
From fiery crater-rims and fill
The dark with rose and daffodil;
Lakes, mountain-bird and spiritual;
The undiscovered waterfall
Like a white feather through the trees.
The undiscovered bird in these
Stargling, always alone, alone,
The lovely voice of the unknown.
This is Romance champagne and
That called me when I was a lad,
That calls me now to follow well
Through blighted Picardy to hell,
Through hell to some obscure bliss
Of new adventure after this
To follow without asking why,
So you will know, if I must lie
Upon this last and strangest quest,
It did not differ from the rest.
In simple wonder dark and bright
A halo for the darkest night;
And freedom like the unknown bird
Was a wild voice I caught in hell
These words, to you, my very dear.

Beyond the steel and the fire
Gleams the old desire.

—Grace Hazard Conkling, in the Atlantic.

Immigration Loss Blamed For Present Shortage of Labor in United States

If every soldier were back on his old job the country would still be 4,000,000 short of its normal number of workers due to the loss of immigration the last four years; if industry does not quickly develop some means for overcoming this shortage it will be seriously handicapped in adjusting itself to new conditions, say officials of the United States training service of the department of labor.

They point out that the country has gone without its normal supply of peace-time commodities for years and now it must replenish freely. Furthermore Europe has lost millions of men and tens of billions of property in the devastated regions must be made good. It is urged that to meet this extraordinary situation the workers in factories and shops must be assisted by increasing their skill and interest in their work. The estimated shortage in this country of 500,000 horses is cited as showing how far the nation is behind normal production.

Training courses in the industrial plants, conducted at the employer's expense, are advocated as one of the practical means of putting industry on a normal footing. More than 250 firms have already instituted courses of this sort and according to reports received by the training service, have benefited in better production and reduced turnover. The workers on the other hand have increased their skill and broadened their knowledge of their trades.

Plan to Make Safe Grade Crossings and Curves for Vehicles and Occupants

To abolish the danger of grade crossings without abolishing the crossing, is the object of the road commission of one of the Southern states. He suggests a strip of road running for about 100 yards alongside the railway track and joined to the highway by a broad curve, well banked, so that a driver, on approaching the tracks and suddenly becoming aware of an oncoming train, could swerve to the right and avoid a smash.

Another road improvement has been put into effect in some parts of California where the roads climb steep hills in long zig-zags. At the sharp angles where the zig-zags meet, large circles of road have been cut, outside the angle, so that a car coming down the mountains at high speed can swing around the circle and proceed on its downward path without the danger of making a sharp turn. A car coming up the mountain makes a similar swing around and thus avoids the strain on its steering gear involved in making a turn at an acute angle when its engine is already strained to the uttermost.

LAST YEAR HERE

Rev. Douglass Completes Four Years of Service at Hickman.

The Methodist District Conference of the Memphis district, which met at Memphis this year—convening on Nov. 10th. This gathering is of more than passing local interest, as Hickman will be assigned a new pastor for the First Methodist Church on that occasion. Rev. R. C. Douglass, our present pastor, will have served his limit here—four years. However much his departure may be regretted there is no alternative. It is a law of the Methodist Church that four years in succession is as long as a pastor can remain in charge of one church.

Rev. P. D. T. Roberts of the West Hickman Church, may or may not be returned to Hickman according to the wishes of the conference leaders.

COMPANY COMMANDER.

Annapolis, Sept. 29.—Based on efficiency shown during the whole course, including the annual practice cruise, just completed, the designations of the officers and petty officers of the regiments of midshipmen have been announced by the Naval Academy authorities.

In the list of appointments, we note the name of Sydney R. Dodds, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Dodds, formerly of this city and who is rated as company commander of the Second Battalion.

Mrs. T. M. Yates, who has been a resident of this city for a number of years, leaves tomorrow for Chiles, Ky., to make her future home.

GAS BUBBLES

Arising From Lake Bottom Barn Like So Much Oil.

A citizen of the Lake vicinity tells us that the geologist who went down on the lake last week to look out a location for staking a well—prospecting for oil—has about decided to make the experiment at the foot of Briner's Bar, and that work will likely begin in a very short time. This is the Newberry crowd.

At the Briner Bar the geologist is said to have made a crude experiment of more than passing interest. He had the men, who was rowing the boat, push his paddle down under the water and turn the soft mud as far as he could, twisting it around. Naturally, bubbles arose from the agitated mud. A lighted match was held close to the surface of the water and as the bubbles burst, they proved to be gas which readily ignited and burned, playing around on the water as though oil had been poured out. If one can believe any of this tale then it would be natural to suppose the bubbles contained a species of marsh gas—a splendid indication of oil.

A local merchant tells us the sugar situation is not improving any; if anything it is growing worse. Some of the big loaders have curtailed shipment, to one bag of sugar with each $100 worth of merchandise shipped to their customers. Merchants are still holding down sales to 25c worth to a customer. This is done to prevent hoarding, and is commendable.

MEN'S COMPLETE OUTFITTER

THINGS WORTH KNOWING.

In 1620, ninety young white girls, and in the following year sixty more were brought over from England and sold to the settlers in Virginia for wives. The price was first one hundred then one hundred and fifty pounds of tobacco, worth three shillings per pound, and a debt so contracted was made of greater dignity than any other.

Suppose a man leaves New York at noon on a given date and travels westward at such a rate of speed that the sun will be always directly overhead. After making a circle of the globe he will reach the starting point in New York just 24 hours after he left it. The question presenting itself is, at which one of his different stopping places, while making the circuit of the globe in 24 hours, carrying noon with him to every station, was he first informed that it was noon on the following day. As he crossed the meridian of 180 degrees east, or west, of Greenwich the day would change. His first stop after crossing the meridian would be Yokohama, perhaps; there he would learn that it was the next day.

The area of the world's coal fields, in square miles and tonnage, is as follows: China and Japan, 290,000; United States, 104,000; India, 25,000; Russia, 27,000; Great Britain, 9,000; Germany, 3,000; France, 1,800; Belgium,

Spain and other countries, 1,400. Total, 471,800. The coal fields of China, Japan, Great Britain, Germany, Russia and India contain apparently 300,000,000 tons, which is enough for 700 years, at present rate of consumption. If to above be added the coal fields in the United States, Canada and other countries, the supply will be found ample for 1,000 years.

THREE FOR MAYOR

City Politics Warm Up as November Election Approaches.

There are now three full-fledged candidates for Mayor of the City of Hickman; they are J. O. West, R. M. Isler and J. R. Brown. There are also eleven candidates for Councilmen (six to be elected). The mayoralty race, especially, promises to be interesting, as some of the candidates are now engaged in making an active campaign—and each has a different platform. Latest dope is that the names of these candidates are to be on the regular city ticket—West heads the Citizens Ticket; Isler on the People's Ticket, and Brown on a ticket by himself. The man who gets the most votes naturally expects to be appointed by the next council to fill out the unexpired term of Mayor Caruthers. While the mayor's salary is now $600 a year, one of the candidates informs us it is a question whether he will donate his salary to be used for street improvement, and some of the candidates for councilmen have made the same declaration.

In addition to the interest manifested by the regular candidates, there is a secondary interest from the standpoint of the filling of appointive offices, including chief of police, clerk, treasurer, city attorney, etc. It is a question of which hand-wagon to load into to make connection with these jobs.

KILLED AT FULTON

J. S. Daugherty, of Houston, Texas, Run Down by Train.

J. S. Daugherty, a prominent business man of Houston, Texas, was run down and killed by a passing train, Saturday morning at Fulton. Deceased was crossing the tracks in front of the Texas Hotel when the deplorable accident occurred.

Speaking of the tragedy, the Fulton Leader says:

"When J. S. Daugherty arrived in Fulton Saturday morning on an early train, he was a stranger to us. But since his death we have learned much about him. He was a native Virginian and a graduate of the University of Virginia. On August 20th he celebrated his 70th birthday, and had been married 40 years. He was a devoted family man, his wife being blessed with five children, four of whom are living. In 1877 he established a general land agency at Houston, Texas, where for half a century he has made his home."

HINTS FOR THE POULTRY GROWER

Keeping at it is the only way to clear the chicken houses of mites. Mites are brought by pigeons, by sparrows, and by the neglect of just a little time and care. They breed by the million in droppings and neglected litter; they hide in the crevices and cracks of the house, coming out at night to sap the strength of the flock and to drive them out of the hen house. One cleaning and whitewashing of the house will not solve the problem; it should be repeated every two weeks to keep ahead of the pests. If the house is kept clean and sunny and washed off with kerosene suds every other washday, there will be little chance of multiplication of mites.

Kerosene emulsion is a good spray for poultry buildings. To make this, shave one-half pound of hard soap into one gallon of soft water and boil the mixture until the soap is dissolved. Then remove it to a safe distance from the fire and stir into it at once, while still hot, two gallons of kerosene. The result is a thick, creamy emulsion. Dilute this stock mixture with ten parts of soft water and apply as a spray or with a brush, being careful to work it into all cracks, crevices and joints of the building.

Our Common Number Symbols Originated in Europe and Were Transmitted to Persians

The origin of our common number symbols has never been clearly established, but until recently all writers agreed that these symbols were transmitted to Europe by the Arabs, who had obtained them from India. It is very interesting to note that available data relating to the origin of our common number symbols have been carefully re-examined by Carra de Vaux. Among the most surprising results are the following: Our common number symbols originated in Europe and from there were transmitted to the Persians. Both India and Arabia received them from Persia, so that the common term Hindoo-Arabic numerals is decidedly misleading. The common numerals did not come from letters of the alphabet, but were formed directly for the purpose of representing numbers.

How to Clean Alarm Clock and Make It Good as New

Take the clock apart. Remove it from the case. Boil the works in strong, soapy water with about two teaspoonfuls of kerosene; dry the works thoroughly, then oil well with kerosene oil. Now put your clock together, wind, and you have a new clock, says a clock maker. On a clock which was stopped for a long time as useless this remedy was tried, and it has run well for months. It has saved a bill at a repair shop.

A GREAT OPPORTUNITY

WE HAVE ARRANGED TO SUB-DIVIDE ABOUT 33 ACRES OF LAND NEAR BONDURANT, KENTUCKY, IN THE CENTER OF THE REELFOOT LAKE OIL DISTRICT INTO LOTS OF 100 SQUARE FEET EACH AND WILL OFFER THESE LOTS FOR SALE TO THE PUBLIC AT

---$10 Per Lot

BY THIS PLAN, THE POOR MAN WILL BE ENABLED TO OWN A PORTION OF THIS OIL DISTRICT. THE OIL MAGNATES AND EXPERTS FROM THE FIELDS OF TEXAS HAVE SECURED OPTIONS ON ALMOST EVERY FOOT OF LAND IN THIS DISTRICT EXCEPT THAT OWNED BY US. IT IS THEREFORE IMPOSSIBLE FOR THE PEOPLE HERE TO SECURE ANY INTEREST IN THIS FIELD EXCEPT THROUGH OUR OFFER. WE BELIEVE IN THE POSSIBILITIES OF THIS FIELD SO STRONGLY THAT WE HAVE ALREADY INVESTED $20,000.00 IN IT AND WILL, WHEN WE HAVE DISPOSED OF ALL LOTS IN THIS TRACT, USE $35,000.00 MORE IN SINKING A WELL FOR OIL. UNDER OUR PROPOSITION EVERYONE BUYING A LOT WILL SHARE IN THE PRODUCTION OF OIL OR GAS FROM THIS WELL. AN INVESTMENT OF $10.00 NOW WILL GIVE THE INVESTOR A FEE SIMPLE TITLE TO A 100 SQUARE FOOT LOT OF LAND WITH A GENERAL WARRANTY DEED, THE SAME AS IS GIVEN TO PURCHASERS OF ANY REAL ESTATE, BESIDES THROUGH THIS SMALL INVESTMENT, YOU MAY BECOME INDEPENDENTLY WEALTHY. WE BELIEVE THAT OPPORTUNITY IS KNOCKING AT YOUR DOOR AND OURS, AND IF WE TAKE ADVANTAGE OF IT NOW, WE CAN SHARE WITH THE OIL MAGNATES IN THE MILLIONS OF DOLLARS TO BE PRODUCED FROM THESE OIL FIELDS WITHIN THE NEXT FEW MONTHS. THE MAN OR WOMAN WHO EMBRACES THIS OPPORTUNITY NOW WILL SHARE IN THE PROFITS WHICH WILL FOLLOW BUT THE MAN WHO LETS THIS PASS, WILL BE COMPELLED TO WATCH THE OTHER FELLOW REAP THE BENEFIT.

UP TO VOTERS

Two Important Constitutional Amendments to be Passed Upon.

In the regular election next month the voters of Kentucky will be called upon to decide whether or not they are in favor of two constitutional amendments.

These amendments are of too much importance to overlook, and therefore should be understood by the voter. The first one provides for the removal from office of any sheriff or peace officer who neglects to do his duty. If you are in favor of getting rid of inefficient officers, you will stamp in the square by the "YES".

The second amendment has to do with state prohibition, proposing to amend the constitution by making it unlawful to manufacture, sell or transport intoxicating liquors within this state after June 30, 1920. If you are in favor of giving John Barleycorn another look-see, and making it permanent you will vote "YES" on this amendment.

These amendments will be submitted on the ballot in the following language:

Amendment No. 1.

Are you in favor of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of Kentucky, which provides that the General Assembly may in addition to the indictment or prosecution now provided by general law provide another manner, method or mode for the removal from office of any sheriff, justice of the peace or peace officer for neglect of duty, and may provide the manner or mode of reinstatement of such officers? (YES) (NO)

Amendment No. 2.

Are you in favor of the proposed Constitutional Amendment to the Constitution of Kentucky, which proposed an amendment with prohibition after June 30, 1920, the manufacture, sale or transportation of spirituous, vinous, malt or other intoxicating liquors, except for sacramental, medicinal, scientific or medicinal purposes, in the Commonwealth of Kentucky and directing and empowering the General Assembly by appropriate legislation to enforce said prohibition? (YES) (NO)

THE MULTIPLYING DOLLAR.

One of the best arguments for the investment of money in good securities at this time is the value—the full value—of the dollar invested.

A dollar is worth what you get for it.

A dollar now isn't worth much because you can't get much for it. It is today worth in purchasing power fifty cents as compared with five years ago. That dollar will in five years get back to its one hundred cents.

If a dollar is invested now, when it matures it will be worth twice as much, or $2.00, hence you should not $1.00 invested this month have in five years from now almost double purchasing power, in addition to whatever interest may be earned between now and that time.

The above line of argument will appeal to a lot of people especially those who are very careful with their savings.

If a man has any debts to pay now is the time to pay because they can be paid with cheap dollars, but it is a poor time to contract debts if they mature in four or five years, because dollars will then have to be paid with dollars which are worth more in purchasing power than at present.

Of all times for investment, the present is the best because of the above facts.

QUAIL FLY OVER RIVER.

A large covey of quail, probably frightened by some animal, flew from the Missouri side of the river across to Hickman Saturday night, into the bright light and against the brick wall of the depot. Several were killed or stunned and Col. Joe Engle picked up four of them. The remainder scattered about town.

It is very unusual for a quail to cross the river, but it happens that on this occasion the water is low and the river narrow. Old citizens tell us they have seen quail start across the river and, exhausted, fall into the water.

MOST COSTLY MAP.

The most costly map in the world is a map of France which was presented to the republic by the Czar of Russia when the Franco-Russian alliance was consummated. The ground-work of the map is polished jasper and the chief towns are represented by precious stones and their names inscribed in gold. The rivers are strips of polished platinum, and the eighty-seven departments are set out on a wonderful scheme of blazing gems.

USE LABOR-SAVING METHODS

Expensive Equipment Rarely Pays Even on Large Poultry Farms—Some Practical Devices.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

Labor-saving methods can be utilized to better advantage on commercial poultry farms by careful planning of the arrangement of the buildings and by installing simple labor-saving devices. An expensive labor-saving equipment rarely pays even on large poultry farms.

Some of the practical devices are large dry-mash hoppers in which the mash is fed, the piping of water to be convenient to each house, and in a large house the installing of a simple-rail system to carry the feed and to be utilized in cleaning the house. If several houses are used they should be arranged to save steps. Sufficient yard space should be allowed to keep the ground in good condition. It is a serious mistake to allow only a very small amount of yard space and thereby overstock the land and produce soil contamination.

A practical and comparatively inexpensive equipment consists of one or more long houses containing from 500 to 1,000 hens arranged with double yards and kept only for the production of market eggs. The yards should be from 100 to 150 feet deep and should be plowed and sowed frequently to quick-growing crops to keep the land fresh. Such a house can be fitted with two large yards, one on each side, which reduces the expenses of partitions in the yards and also greatly facilitates labor and cultivating the yards. Considerable green feed can be grown incidentally in keeping these yards fresh and in good condition.

The use of mammoth incubators materially cuts down the labor necessary in hatching large numbers of chickens, and a brooding system of stove brooding houses, or a small hot-water pipe system makes an economical brooding equipment and one which can be conducted successfully with a minimum amount of labor. The breeding stock under these conditions should be kept in colony houses scattered over a considerable area, and if possible allowed free range, using their eggs for hatching during the breeding season and keeping from 50 to 100 hens in each house.

On the average general farm the poultry does not receive sufficient care to produce the best results, but by better arrangement of buildings and better methods the same amount of poultry could be kept with the labor now being used and better results obtained, while in many cases the size of the flocks could be increased and greater profits realized for the labor required.

On commercial poultry farms careful planning of equipment will greatly reduce labor, but a very intensive system is detrimental to profitable results with poultry. The danger is often too great intensification, which while temporarily reducing labor does not provide conditions under which poultry can be reproduced successfully with good results.

ATTENTION!
Sick Women

To do your duty during these trying times your health should be your first consideration. These two women tell how they found health.

Hellam, Pa.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for female troubles and a displacement. I felt all run down and was very weak. I had been treated by a physician without results, so I decided to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial, and felt better right away. I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. E. R. CRUMMING, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

Lowell, Mich.—"I suffered from cramps and dragging down pains, was irregular and had female weakness and displacement. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which gave me relief at once and restored my health. I should like to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies to all suffering women who are troubled in a similar way."—Mrs. ELISE HEIM, R. No. 6, Box 83, Lowell, Mich.

RUSSIA AND GERMANY.

Napoleon sold all Europe would be "sunk or repelling." Napoleon was a wise man, perhaps the ablest leader of men yet seen in Europe.
Russia today is a turbulent state, with its wild disorders and its unknown conditions. The Allies hold aloof, the Germans even mobilize an army against the Bolsheviks, but what are the present seeds going to bear?
Will the world face a possible multi-Russo-German alliance in the next generation? Will the Slav unite with the Teuton, and thus challenge the control of a league of nations formed without them? It is a question worth pondering, without even considering a possible alliance of other nations.

CURIOUS WATER HOLE.

A curious form of water hole is found in the deserts of Western Australia, dry by day but yielding an abundant supply of water by night. The flow of water is preceded by weird hissing and sounds of rushing air. On examining one it was found that the water supply occurred in a long narrow trench, at the bottom of which was a thin plate of glass, separated by a cavity from the main rock mass beneath. Apparently the heat of the day causes this plate to expand in the form of a depression, in which the water retreats. When it cools and contracts at night it forces first air and then water back into the trench.

MAY EXPECT FROST.

The cocklebur, presumed by everyone to be a true harbinger of cold weather, is ready to be visited by frost. The burr is matured and this fact, according to those who have watched the growth for years, is a sure sign that a visitation of frost is near. Should a frost appear now, however, it will mean the destruction of a great deal of late corn and cotton that is not yet ready for such an experience as to be covered with frost.

NOT "BONE DRY" THERE.

Rumor has it, that a big shaggy lion is roaming the woods in the hills between Luka, Grand Rivers and Gum Springs. It is said that a boy on a mule was chased by the lion until the mule leaped over a fence with its rider, leaving the lion on the outside. If there is a real lion in the neighborhood, he may have escaped from a big show.—Paducah Sun.

TO MEET AT CLINTON.

The West Kentucky Baptist Association, composed of the Baptist churches of Fulton, Hickman and Carroll counties, will convene for its annual three day session on October 7, the local Baptist church being the host of the meeting. There will likely be more than a hundred delegates besides a considerable number of visitors.

MAY START SOON.

An early beginning of the work on the Ohio River Route, Kentucky's new federal aid highway, is planned by the State road department. The new thoroughfare is to be a standard surface highway modern construction that will link Paducah and West Kentucky with Louisville and the Blue Grass, following the Ohio river.

COURT WILL MEET.

The Fulton County Fiscal Court will meet at Hickman in regular monthly session on Tuesday, Oct. 7. All claims and other business to come before this body should be prepared by that time. Monthly meetings of the court seem to be a great improvement over the old semi-annual plan, better for the court and the taxpayers.

If you want to know what rare and unusual enjoyment Camels provide smoke them in comparison with any cigarette in the world at any price!

CAMELS are a cigarette revelation any way you consider them! Take quality, or refreshing flavor and fragrance; or, that wonderful mellow-mild-smoothness you never before got in a cigarette smoke! Yet Camels are so full-bodied and so full-of-satisfaction you marvel that so much delight could be put into a cigarette!

Camels expert blend of choice Turkish and choice Domestic tobaccos makes them so irresistibly appetizing! And, the blend explains why it is possible for you to smoke Camels liberally without tiring your taste! You will prefer Camels to either kind of tobacco smoked straight!

You'll realize pretty quick, too, that among the many reasons you smoke Camels is their freedom from any unpleasant cigarette aftertaste or unpleasant cigarette odor!

Once you know Camels you won't take much stock in premiums, coupons or gifts! You'll prefer Camel quality!

R. J. REYNOLDS TOBACCO CO., Winston-Salem, N. C.

Camels are sold everywhere in scientifically sealed packages of 20 cigarettes; or ten packages (200 cigarettes) in a glassine-paper-covered carton. We strongly recommend this carton for the home or office supply or when you travel.

TO REMAIN DRY

War Time Prohibition to be in Effect Until Peace Treaty Signed.

Death of war-time prohibition now depends on ratification of the Peace Treaty by the Senate. It was said at Washington. This followed announcement of demobilization figures by the War Department showing that the army now has been reduced to peace-time strength.

Demobilization is only one of two conditions which must be fulfilled before the President can end the war-time prohibition law by proclamation. Attorney General Palmer has made clear.

The law makes the other conditions very emphatic. Mr. Palmer said, by a clause which provides that the act shall continue in effect until demobilization "and thereafter until termination of the present war."

Termination can come only when Congress formally has made peace. Mr. Palmer noted.

Who Won the War?

Pres. Wilson Says America Did.
Gen. Haig Says Britain Did.

Who won the war? This is one of the questions that the peace conference failed to answer.

President Wilson gave the American answer in a speech on board the George Washington July 4.

Field Marshal Haig gave the British answer in an address in Newcastle.

President Wilson said:

"Then America went in, and if it had not been for America the war would not have been won. My heart swells with pride that I cannot express when I think of the men who crossed the seas from America to fight on those battlefields."

General Haig said:

"Don't forget it was the British empire that won this war. We talked a great deal about our allies. It was necessary and right that we should do so to back them up all we could while the fighting was going on, but don't forget it was the British empire that won this war."

Ancient Chinese Poetry as "Written Pictures"

Several translations of sixteenth, eighteenth and nineteenth century Chinese poems, which have just been printed in an American magazine of verse, will strike many casual readers as being very much like occidental verse; and it is also noticeable that these poems, widely apart in time, are very near together in feeling and technical manner. The Chinese poet, in fact, seems to have anticipated by several centuries the "latest thing" in Western verse expression. And perhaps this is really the case. The Chinese term for such poems is, literally translated, "written pictures," which will also seem to many modern readers a good working definition for verse libre.—Christian Science Monitor.

COURT AT FULTON.

The following cases of interest were disposed of by Circuit Court at Fulton last week:

In the case of J. T. Milner, administrator vs. director general of railroads, for $25,000 damages, for the killing of his son, Tommie Milner, the jury's decision was in favor of the defendant who was given $8,000.

The case of Lewis Tobacco Co. vs. R. A. Taylor and others, tried in court resulted in a hung jury and the case continued until next term of court. The jury was dismissed.

In the case of J. T. Milner vs. director general of railroads, in which the plaintiff was given a verdict for damages, was appealed to higher court.

Portie Hollifield vs. Elliott & Reed, defendant recovered $22.

W. A. Hill and Sons vs. D. I. Yates, judgment against Dr. Yates for $22. This case arose from a dispute over a contract.

Commonwealth vs. Paul McGowan, Albert McGowan and Chester Watts, who entered a plea of guilty for stealing a Ford car from M. I. Boulton, defendants were each given three years in the penitentiary.

WHOLESALE DISHES.

For a new dish and one of good flavor the following will be worth trying:

Baked Calves' Tongues.—Cover four fresh tongues with boiling water. Add five slices of carrot, two stalks of celery, one onion stuck with six cloves; 15 pepper-corns and one-half a tablespoonful of salt; cook until tender. Take from the water, remove the skin and roots and cut in halves lengthwise. Cook one-half can of tomatoes with two cupfuls of brown stock until reduced one-half. Reheat tongues in sauce. Garnish with parsley, lemon slices and points of bread crumbed in butter.

Mock Sausages.—Pick over one-half cupful of lima beans and soak in cold water to cover. Drain and cook in boiling salted water until soft; then force through a sieve. There should be three-fourths of a cupful of pulp. Add one-third of a cupful of dried crumbs, three tablespoonfuls of heavy cream or butter, a few grains of pepper, salt to taste, one-half teaspoonful of sage and one egg beaten slightly. Shape in the form of sausages, dip in egg crumbs and fry in olive oil. Drain, arrange on a serving dish and garnish with fried apple rings.

Italian Canapes.—Cut stale bread in one-third-inch slices and remove the crusts. Cut in finger-shaped pieces and toast on one side. Mix one cupful of grated cheese (Parmesan), two-thirds cupful of heavy cream and two tablespoonfuls of fruit juice; season well with salt and pepper. Spread the untoasted side of bread with the mixture, arrange in a pan and bake in a hot oven six minutes. Garnish with sprigs of parsley and serve at once on small hot plates.

Escalloped Potatoes.—Wash, pare and cut four medium-sized potatoes in one-fourth-inch slices. Put a layer in a buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt and pepper and dredge with flour and dot with one tablespoonful of butter; repeat. Add hot milk until it seeps through the top layer. Bake one and one-fourth hours or until the potatoes are soft.

STRAIGHTFORWARD TESTIMONY

Many Hickman Citizens Have Prolonged By It.

If you have headache, urinary troubles, or dizziness, headaches or nervousness, strikes at the seat of the trouble. These are often the symptoms of weak kidneys and there is grave danger in delay. Doan's Kidney Pills are especially prepared for kidney ailments—are endorsed by over 50,000 people. Your neighbors recommend this remedy—have proved its merit in many tests. Hickman readers should take fresh courage in the straightforward testimony of a Hickman citizen.

I, W. Swift, 701 Foster St., Hickman, Mo., says: "A short time ago my back and kidneys gave me a great deal of trouble. Kidney trouble was brought on by sitting down too much and when a friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to me, I bought a box at Cowgill's Drug Store. I used one and a half boxes and was cured of all trouble with my back and kidneys."

Price 60c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Swift had. Foster-McMillan Co., Mfgs., Buffalo, N. Y.
